

The 19th New Zealand Asian Studies Society International Conference 2011

2- 4 July Massey University
Palmerston North, New Zealand

About

The New Zealand Asian Studies Society (NZASIA), established in 1974, seeks to encourage the spread of knowledge about Asia, its history, its culture and its role in international affairs. The Society's biennial conferences help achieve this aim through the dissemination of original research in all fields concerning Asia.

www.nzasia.org.nz

Important Dates

- ✓ Call for Papers deadline – 30 April 2011
- ✓ Early Bird Registration ends – 10 June 2011
- ✓ Standard Registration applies – 11 June 2011
- ✓ Full papers for proceedings deadline – 2 August 2011

Call for Papers

The rise of Asia and shift of emphasis to Asia as the site of emerging power are key factors in the twenty-first century. We are seeking papers on topics of original research that address these and other issues on the local, national and international levels and in a context that is multidisciplinary. We welcome all topics related to these areas as well as proposals for panels. For more information please visit: www.nzasia.org.nz/callforpapers11.html

Keynote Speakers

Joseph Yu-shek Cheng:

Chair Professor of Political Science and Coordinator of the Contemporary China Research Project, City University of Hong Kong

Antonia Finnane:

Historian of China and professor in the School of Historical Studies at the University of Melbourne

Mee Kam Ng:

Director of the Master of Science in Urban Planning programme in the Department of Urban Planning and Design, The University of Hong Kong

Registration

Early Bird Registration

NZASIA Members NZ$250.00

Non Members NZ$300.00

Students NZ$150.00

Standard Registration

NZASIA Members NZ$350.00

Non Members NZ$400.00

Students NZ$180.00

Contact

Event Website: www.nzasia.org.nz/conference.html

Massey University Conference Services:

Email: conferences@massey.ac.nz | Phone: +64 6 350 5117 | Fax: +64 6 350 5669